POLICY PATROL DISCLAIMERS

Take control of your email.

GLOBAL & USER BASED DISCLAIMERS

Policy Patrol allows you to define global disclaimers that are added to every email, or to configure user-based disclaimers that are only added to emails from specified users, groups, domains or public folders.

INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL DISCLAIMERS

Disclaimers can be added to internal (if installed on Exchange 2003 or Exchange 2000) and/or external mails. Since Policy Patrol can distinguish between internally and externally sent mails, different disclaimers can be added to each.

FORMATTED DISCLAIMERS WITH PICTURES AND TABLES

Policy Patrol can apply formatting to your disclaimers and signatures as well as pictures and tables, and allows you to edit the HTML source directly. Policy Patrol also includes the option to add a disclaimer as a plain text attachment.

MERGE FIELDS

By using merge fields in the disclaimer or signature (such as user name, telephone number and email address), Policy Patrol can add individualized signatures and disclaimers.

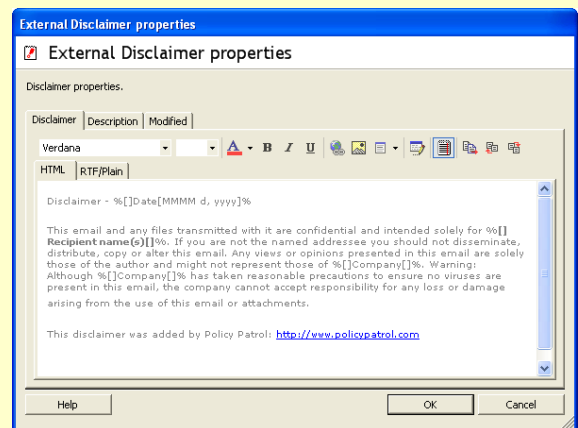

ADVANCED PERMISSIONS

Advanced user permissions can be applied to each folder, allowing certain users to edit their own disclaimers or signatures.

- Microsoft Exchange 2000/2003/5.5, Lotus Notes/Domino or other mail server.
- Microsoft .NET Framework

DISCLAIMER & SIGNATURE POSITIONING

Policy Patrol can append or prepend disclaimers, but can also position disclaimers & signatures after the last entered message text. This is especially useful for signatures when replying or forwarding.

AVOID MULTIPLE DISCLAIMERS

By searching messages for an existing disclaimer, Policy Patrol can avoid adding multiple disclaimers when replying or forwarding.

ADD OR EXCLUDE DISCLAIMERS BASED ON CODE IN SUBJECT

By entering a predefined code in the message subject, users can specify a certain disclaimer to be added, or can stop a disclaimer from being added.

SEND BLIND COPY

This feature can be used to save copies of messages in a particular mailbox for monitoring or backup purposes, or to prove that a disclaimer was added.
